

ONE DAY IN BIRMINGHAM

Looking for the perfect way to spend a day?

You'll find it in Birmingham. Let us show you how to weave the wonders of nature, award-winning restaurants, history, arts, culture, and entertainment into one incredible day in the Magic City.

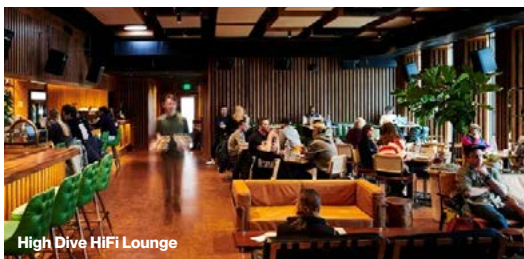

Moss Rock Preserve

June Coffee

Birmingham Zoo

High Dive HiFi Lounge

Energize at the outset with an early morning hike at Moss Rock Preserve, 349 acres rife with wooded trails, sandstone boulders, rare plants, streams, waterfalls, and wildlife. Arrive at dawn to enjoy the sunrise at the scenic "Top of the World" view along the Orange Trail.

After that brisk morning walk, go by June Coffee to grab a well-deserved cup of java and a pastry from June's next-door neighbor, Last Call Baking. The pastries are freshly made with recipes developed by Last Call's founder and 2024 James Beard Award finalist Chanah Willis.

Drop by the boma yard at Birmingham Zoo and share a snack with a giraffe from atop a 4,000-square-foot observation deck. If feeding something smaller is more to your liking, head over to the Lorikeet Aviary to offer nectar to some of the some of the zoo's prized rainbow-colored lorikeets.

For music lovers, a stop at High Dive HiFi Lounge for some good vibes is a must. An all-day HiFi listening lounge, High Dive serves coffee, classic cocktails, food, and a steady diet of music in an atmosphere created to provide patrons with an immersive sound experience.

ONE DAY IN BIRMINGHAM

Pace yourself with an al fresco lunch at Bottega Café, a casual trattoria owned and operated by Chef Frank and Pardis Stitt, both recognized by James Beard and MICHELIN for their respective roles in the business. Order from the mouthwatering menu, then enjoy some first-rate people-watching while you wait.

Whether you're a motorsports fan or not, a visit to the Barber Vintage Motorsports Museum & Park is a memorable experience. Home of the largest collection of vintage motorcycles in the world, the park also features a series of infield sculptures and an extensive array of plants.

Grab a beer at Good People Brewing, home of the bestselling IPA in Alabama for the past 10 years. If wine is more your style, stop by Golden Age Wine Shop & Bar for a glass "with a little edge and a lot of heart" from among 850 low-intervention wines.

How about dinner at a MICHELIN-recognized seafood-forward restaurant owned by a 2026 James Beard semifinalist for Outstanding Chef? Go see Rob McDaniel at his latest achievement, Bayonet. Arrive between 3:00 and 5:00 p.m. for Bayonet's "Two Buck Shuck" happy hour then follow up with a fabulous meal.

Catch a show at the Coca-Cola Amphitheater, Birmingham's newest outdoor entertainment venue, which opened in June 2025 with comedian Matt Rife as the first act. In addition to hosting popular artists, the 9,300-capacity venue offers stunning views of the city's skyline from the former Carraway Hospital site.

After a long day, you deserve a cocktail, and House of Found Objects is a terrific place to have one. Sip away while exploring the quirky collection of odd items for which the bar is named and hear some of the stories connected with them.
